KIM'S TWIN!

The resemblance is uncanny! British makeup artist Jordan James Parke, 23, spent $150,000 to look like his idol Kim Kardashian by getting a battery of plastic surgery and other treatments on his face, including lip fillers, cheek fillers, Botox, laser hair removal, eyebrow tattoos and veneers. "I laugh when people try to insult me by telling me I look plastic or fake," he explains. "Do they think I'm going for the natural look? If I was, I'd ask for my money back." Don't worry, Jordan; it's highly unlikely anyone will think you look natural. ★
